The Field Trials Association Have Another Good

MARTINSVILLE, VA., December 1.-The big free for all stake was run off to-day and the most magnificent exhibition of bird work even seen in Virginia was witnessed. The day opened clear and cold, and the field trial party were astir early. As a result of the first brace, Champion Prince Rodney, the dog sold recently by Mr. C. B. Cooke, of Richmond, and handled by Mr. D. E. Rose mond, and handled by Mr. D. E. Rose, of Alabama, was put down at 8:45, with Pat, owned by M. M. Lyon, of Richmond. Prince got away at a slashing gait, and soon out of sight. His pace was fast and range wide. After making a cast of one-half mile down a valley, he came back to his handler and was worked into a wide field, where he nailed a fine bevy, and was steady. Pat found a covey, but was entirely oftclassed in every way. The next brace was Uncle Sam, another
